Sanct Bernhard stands for high-quality natural products containing carefully-selected active ingredients from Nature, which gently care for the skin and give it everything it needs for natural harmony and beauty.

Over the years, our skin changes: the natural cell activity decreases, callous flakes on the surface of the skin are no longer rejected as quickly and the sebum production is reduced. As a consequence, moisture can no longer be retained as effectively. The skin becomes drier, fatigued and less supple, and wrinkles begin to appear. What the skin now needs is specific and intensive care which counteracts skin aging in a targeted manner. The efficacy of this care is based on a combination of plant-based and innovative ingredients. These support the natural cell activity and thus counteract the signs of skin aging.

Sanct Bernhard Anti-wrinkle ampoules are suitable for every skin type which requires regeneration. They reduce age-related skin changes, counteract excessive hornification and increase the elasticity of the skin.

With Sanct Bernhard, caring for your skin becomes the perfect experience. Exact portioning and hygienic packaging ensure qualitative excellence. The ampoules can be re-sealed, meaning that the valuable active ingredients can be used sparingly and dosed accurately.

The triple AHA complex (AHA = alpha hydroxy acid) made from fruit acids from passionfruit, grape and pineapple, remove the excess cell flakes which make our complexion appear dull and matt from the surface of the skin in a gentle peeling process. Fresh skin is exposed, which can thus absorb and store more moisture. At the same time, the skin's natural regeneration process is activated. The skin texture is refined; wrinkles are gently smoothed and lines reduced. The skin becomes palpably soft and supple.

Anti-elastase complex blocks the activity of the enzyme elastase, which is responsible for the decomposition of elastin. Elastin is an important component of the fibres which give the skin its elasticity. This slows down skin aging, and the skin retains its elasticity.

Vitamin C protects the skin naturally against free radicals, activates the collagen production and thus prevents premature aging of the skin and the formation of new wrinkles.

To achieve perfect skin care, you carry out a course of cosmetic nourishing treatments with 14 individual treatments. This corresponds with the contents of one box of ampoules. Repeat this course of treatment at regular intervals. We recommend our pack of 3 for a 6 week application for intensive treatment.

Application: The contents of an ampoule are perfect for two generous intensive applications per day - one in the morning and one in the evening. Cleanse the skin thoroughly, then apply the anti-wrinkle concentrate onto a cotton wool ball, apply evenly to problem zones such as the face, neck and décolleté, and gently massage in. Then apply the appropriate care cream, preferably Sanct Bernhard anti-wrinkle daffodil cream.

Note: The intensive effect of these active ingredients may be perceived as a gentle prickling on the skin.

During application, please leave out the sensitive areas around the eyes.
