

Vitamin C 600 Supra-capsules

Nutritional supplement

The body's defensive forces are not just important in the wet and cold seasons of the year or when under intensive physical strain. As an increasing number of studies have shown, the entire organism profits from vitamin C! Vitamin C 600 Supra-capsules supply high doses of vitamin C in support of the body's own defensive forces, to protect the cells and for normal function of the blood vessels, bones, cartilage, skin and teeth. Just one capsule per day is sufficient!

- High dosage
- Vitamin C supports the normal functions of the immune systems
- Vitamin C plays a role in protecting cells against oxidative stress
